The entertainment given in the lecture course last Wednesday evening, which consisted of dramatic readings by Osceola Pooler, was the best entertainment of the course thus far, and exceeded anything in that line ever given here. In presentation of the great drama, her presentation of the great drama, "If I Were King," she proved herself very versatile indeed, and held the audience through the tragedy and romance of the five acts, by her clever impersonations and charming personality. She closed the entertainment with a very laughable selection, which captivated everyone.

EAST LYNDON.

Mrs. Abbie Hunt, who has been visiting in Lowell, Mass., has returned home. Miss Amelia Lee was at home during the holidays:

Miss Sylvia Hovey is visiting friends in South Newbury. Red Village school began Monday, with Miss Jenkins of East Haven as teacher.

The necktie party at C. H. Nickerson's was a social success. Cake, coffee and sandwiches were served and games were in order. The New Year was duly welcomed.

There were no services at the church Sunday, owing to the severity of the weather. Misses Addie Hutchinson, Ruth and Della Hovey are attending school at Lyndon Institute. There will be a baked bean social at Smith Bros'. Thursday evening.

NORTH WALDEN.

Another Veteran Gone.

After a long illness Abram Parler passed away Jan. 2. aged 75 years and six months. He is survived by a wife Isabel Hibbard, two sons and two daughters. Several children died in infancy. His eldest son, Harvey, lives in Denver, Mrs. Louise O'Brian, a widow in New York city, Mrs. Azro Hawkins in St. Johnsbury, and Will and family upon the home farm, where they has kindly administered to the wants of their parents. Mr. Parker was a native of this town and spent the greater part of his life here. Coming from East Hardwick, where he spent his carle married life, to this neighborhood, he settled upon his farm more than 30 years ago. They have known some thing of hardships. Their home was destroyed by fire about 25 years ago. He served his country during the southern rebellion, and his anecdotes of Rev. and Mrs. H. T. Barnard visited | the "boys in blue" from the time of their enlistment, when filled with enthusiasm, boasting of bravery and patriotism which they really knew nothing of before they were mustered into service, which they expected would be of short duration, and later when war became a serious business, as comrades were falling on all sides wounded and dying, his experience, like many other of Vermont's brave soldiers, were listened to with much interest. He had a mental disability, for which he was generously rewarded by the government, and had many luxuries in his declining years. Mr. and Mrs. Parker celebrated their golden wedding Oct. 24, 1905. The funeral was held Jan, 5, at his late residence, and was conducted by the G. A R., attended by the W. R. C., Rev. Mr. Ross of Greensboro Bend officiating. The burial was in the Stevens cemetery. He was a kind neighbor and will be missed

Monday and Tuesday. Policies that Insure Success in Savings Banks. Every good banking institution has certain policies which it follows invariably and which make for the success or failure of the Bank. The Enosburg Falls Standard evidently believes the Hyde Park Savings Bank is following the right kind of policies.

Ex-Gov. C. S. Page has every reason for pride and satisfaction over the record made by the Lamoille County Savings Bank, which on July 11th passed the million-dollar mark in assets. This is distinctively a Vermont institution for it has been the policy of the bank since its establishment that none of its loans should be made out of the state. It has never lost a dollar by a poor note. Its depositors are to be found in practically every town in the state. Its policies have commanded patronage and made for its success.

Commencing January, 1908, this bank will pay four per cent compounded semi-annually on all deposits large and small alike; will pay taxes on all sums up to $2000, and will issue pass-books with no limits as to times of withdrawal or other restrictions or limitations save those common to all Vermont Savings Banks. Deposits made on or before Feb. 15th will draw interest from Jan. 1st, those after Feb. 15th from April 1st.
